JOHNSON FAILS TO HALT GIANTS

Veteran Unsuccessful in Second Effort Against Foe.

NEW YORK NOW HAS THE EDGE

Bunched Hits in the Third, Fifth and Eighth Innings Win the Fifth Game of the World's Series For the National League—Goslin of the Washingtons and Bentley of the Giants Drive Ball Into the Stands.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Giants by hitting opportunely the offerings of Walter Johnson, veteran pitcher of the Washington American league champions, captured the fifth game of the world's series yesterday. New York now needs only one more game to clinch the world's championship.

Another crowd of 50,000 fans witnessed the contest. Their sympathies, which have been with the Senators throughout the New York games of the series, were particularly evident for Johnson yesterday. The veteran pitcher took his punishment grimly, and at the conclusion of the game stated it was doubtful if he would play ball next year. "I couldn't hold them," he said, referring to the game. "I had two chances to beat the Giants, but I couldn't hold them either time."

Jack Bentley, southpaw star, held the Senators to one run until the eighth inning, when he left under an outbreak that was started by Goslin's homer. But before Bentley left the game his own bat gave the Giants a lead they held to the finish. He caught one of Johnson's curves in the fifth inning for a home run into the upper tier of the right field stands, scoring Hank Gowdy ahead of him. This proved the deciding punch of the game, although the Giants came back in the eighth with a three-run rally that clinched their victory.

Another figure in the Giant onslaught was Freddie Lindstrom, 18-year-old Chicago schoolboy, who took the place of the veteran Heinie Groh at third base when the latter was injured and made four hits in five times at bat. He drove in two runs, sparked in the field and established himself as one of the greatest sensations of the series.

New York was the first to cross the plate. In the third Jackson beat out a bunt, took third on Bentley's single and scored on Lindstrom's hit. Two more runs were made in the fifth, when Gowdy singled and Bentley hit a home run into the upper right field stands. In the eighth three men circled the bases. Kelly singled to left and Terry walked. Wilson was safe when Johnson fumbled his bunt. Jackson fled to Goslin, Kelly scoring after the catch. Gowdy forced Wilson, but Terry scored and Gowdy took second on McQuillan's single over Bluege. Lindstrom singled to left, scoring Gowdy.

Washington made its first tally in the fourth inning on Judge's single, a sacrifice and Miller's safety. Another run was added in the eighth when Goslin hit a home run into the upper right field stand.

DONAHEY TESTIFIES

Says Reed Has No Influence So Far as He Was Concerned.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—Governor Donahey testified in the hearing of the case of E. C. Reed, charged with having obtained $300 from Mrs. Mamie Cowdery of this city, July 11, by falsely pretending he could obtain the release of her husband, Harry Cowdery, Hamilton county life prisoner, from the penitentiary.

The governor said as far as he was concerned Reed had no influence which would enable him to obtain the release of prisoners and that he did not recollect of having talked over the case with Reed. He said, however, that he was appealed to in cases of penitentiary prisoners by so many persons that he may have talked with Reed.

Mrs. Cowdery on the stand said that Reed promised her to obtain the release of her husband for $1,000, $300 of which was to be paid in advance.

AMBUSHED ON WAY TO OPEN UP MINES

Coal Operator and Three Companions Are Shot.

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 9.—Sheriff Gorman and posse of state troops are scouring the hills for the assailants of Lee J. Sandridge, one of the best known coal operators in West Virginia and prominent in Democratic political circles.

Sandridge and three companions were ambushed while on their way to the Meriden mine in Barbour county. All four were shot and wounded. Sandridge, probably fatally. Brown Talbott, son of Dr. L. W. Talbott of Elkins, was among those wounded. He recently graduated from West Virginia university and was taking up his duties as foreman of the Meriden mines.

Sandridge had given orders to resume operations at the mines of the Rock Island Coal company, of which he was superintendent. For several years the mines operated under an agreement with the union, but, after a shutdown of more than a month, officials of the company decided to reopen without a union agreement. Sandridge and companions are in Elkins hospital.

INCREASE NOTED

Ohio's Traffic Toll of Deaths For First Six Months of 1924.

Columbus, Oct. 9.—According to figures made public by I. C. Plummer, state registrar of vital statistics, Ohio's automobile traffic toll of deaths increased 9.4 per cent for the first six months of 1924 over the same period in 1923. During the first half of 1923 there were 318 deaths in auto accidents; this year there were 442. Of the total of 442 deaths for the six-month period this year, 54 were at railroad crossings and 26 the result of streetcar accidents, tabulation of the figures revealed. Cuyahoga county led the list with 90 deaths. Only 33 counties in the state reported no automobile accident fatalities.

BROWN APPEALS TO BISHOPS

Did Not Have a Fair Trial, He Contends.

WAS FOUND GUILTY OF HERESY

Ohio Bishop Charges That Passages From His Book, Communism and Christianity, Were Garbled, "Either Deliberately or in Ignorance," to Make It Appear That He Is an Atheist—Bishops to Review Case.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—An appeal from the heresy verdict returned by a trial court of bishops here last spring was made by Bishop W. M. Brown of Gallion, O. In a letter to the 125 bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States, Bishop Brown asked that they veto the heresy verdict of the court. All the bishops must approve the finding before sentence can be passed. Bishop Brown charged that his trial was not fair and that he was prevented from offering relevant evidence.

Bishop Brown in his letter asserts that the "old orthodox is in ruins," and that it is the duty of the fathers of the church to see that the church is made "habitable for American men and women of mature mind," rather than for "old men and children."

Bishop Brown's trial and conviction were based upon statements published in his book, "Christianity and Communism," in which he declared that although he did not "believe in the existence of a conscious personal God," he was not godless. "Nature is my divinity," he asserted. "To know and regard the doings of this divinity is the salvation of the world." "The court was invited to pronounce me a heretic," the bishop wrote, "on the plain issue that my words were not consistent with the literal reading of our formula. Fifty other preachers and writers in our own church in America could at once be arraigned for a similar inconsistency."

While admitting that he "denied the supernatural Jesus of the old creeds," Bishop Brown contended that he shared "this denial with so large and reputable a body of churchmen that the singling out of him for a charge of heresy" required an explanation and asserted that his trial and conviction was "because my teaching is not in accord with the medieval interpretation of the formularies devised in the middle ages and earlier."

Bishop Brown charges that passages of his book, "Communism and Christianity," were garbled, either deliberately or in ignorance, to make it appear that he is an atheist. This imputation he denies.

DYE ISSUES STATEMENT

Accuses Ohio Republican Organization of Evasion.

Columbus, Oct. 9.—Democratic State Chairman Thomas E. Dye issued a statement declaring that attempts of the Republican organization to reply to Governor Donahey's comparisons "are so silly and flimsy as to be in keeping with the general evasion of anything and everything that contributed to making the Davis regime in 1921 and 1922 the most corrupt in the history of the state."

Dye continues: "It is noticeable that Harry L. Davis refrains from denying any specific allegations for the very good reason that any attempt in that direction would be fatal, making the situation worse for him, if anything. Why is it that there is no attempt by the Republican organization to condone the expenditure of $73,042 to secure two nominations for Harry L. Davis, in 1920 and 1924, when the job pays only $40,000 for four years? For the same number of nominations Governor Donahey spent only $50."

LABOR REGIME SUFFERS DEFEAT

Action of Commons Brings the Government to an End.

PREMIER CONFERS WITH KING

Asks For Dissolution of Parliament Which Will Be Followed Later by an Appeal to the Country—Labor Party of Great Britain Defeated by Combination of Liberals and Conservatives.

London, Oct. 9.—The end of the British labor government is in sight.

A motion, demanding that a select committee of the house of commons investigate the action of the attorney general, Sir Patrick Hastings, in withdrawing prosecution in the case of the Communist, James R. Campbell, acting editor of the Workers' Weekly, charged with inciting his majesty's forces to sedition, was carried by a vote of 304 to 198.

This result was accomplished by a combination of Conservative and Liberal votes. The government declined to accept the motion and treated it as a vote of censure, which, if adopted by the house, would involve an appeal to the country against parliament's verdict.

At the close of debate the opposition wanted to drop Sir Robert Forster's motion of censure and vote on Sir John A. Simon's amendment calling for an investigation. By a vote of 359 to 198 it decided to vote on the Simon amendment. This was equivalent to the defeat of the censure motion, and the Simon amendment became the substantive motion, and was carried.

The house then adjourned on Premier MacDonald's motion. The premier will see the king and ask for dissolution of parliament. It is believed, however, that the government has decided to carry on until the Irish boundary bill is safe and the boundary commission appointed. Observers say the Labor party and the government welcome an appeal to the country and are convinced that they will return a much stronger party, even though they may not command a majority in the house over all parties. They believe they have a good cause to present to the electors in what they argue is the triviality of the question upon which they have been defeated and on their record, especially in the realm of foreign affairs and finances.

HIGH COURT'S RULING

Husband Can Not Be Enjoined From Seeing Woman Other Than Wife.

Columbus, Oct. 9.—Ohio supreme court has gone on record with a decision holding that the state courts can not enjoin a husband from seeing a woman other than his wife. The court dissolved an injunction secured by Mrs. Grace King in Adams county courts against Miss Jessie Snedaker, which kept Miss Snedaker from corresponding with or seeing Mrs. King's husband, Homer. Miss Snedaker and Homer had been friends, according to the court papers. Mrs. King sued Miss Snedaker asking damages and an injunction. She was given $5 damages and Miss Snedaker was enjoined from speaking or communicating with Mr. King and from "doing any act which would prevent King from giving his affections, companionship and support to his wife." The $5 damage still stands.

Dean Releases Wife.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Dr. Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest, 44, dean of the University of Pittsburgh, has given up his wife of 16 years so that she may enjoy her "perfect love." In securing a divorce here Dr. Hall-Quest made every effort to keep the affair a secret in an attempt to shield Mrs. Hall-Quest from the public gaze. To the last the professor refused to divulge the name of the man, who is now living with the woman in Evanston, a Chicago suburb.

DIRECTOR WITTER REPLIES

To the Attack Made Recently by Miss Rose Moriarity.

Columbus, Oct. 9.—Director Witter of the industrial relations department has replied to the attack made by Miss Rose Moriarity, member of the industrial commission, regarding the dismissing of Dr. W. F. Bay, special medical examiner. The director does not deny that the special medical examiner was discharged, but declares that the action was taken for the good of the cause and because the United Mine Workers of America, in their annual convention, asked for his dismissal because of discourteous treatment to injured workmen.

"To say that the department has been handicapped on account of his dismissal is plain deception," Director Witter says, adding that "when Harry L. Davis left office there were 4,000 claims pending for first hearing, and it required six weeks to get first payment to injured workers. Now the average number of first hearing cases is kept below 1,500, and the first compensation payment goes out in less than two weeks."

The director comes back at Miss Moriarity by asking for an explanation of the sudden dismissal of Harry C. Baker, director of claims; W. K. Merriman, chief clerk in the claims department; and L. J. O'Brien, auditor, all of whom were under civil service, with over eight years' experience in the department, and who were supplanted with deserving Republicans the day following dismissal, during the Davis administration, without the semblance of a civil service hearing.

Delaware, O., Oct. 9.—Wilfred Helms of Lima and Rolin Rosset of Arcanum have been approved by the Ohio Wesleyan faculty as the university's official candidates for appointment to the Rhodes scholarships from Ohio for 1924 and 1925. Ralph Meader of Battle Creek, Mich., also has been approved by the Ohio Wesleyan faculty as a candidate for the Rhodes scholarship from Michigan in 1924 and 1925.

ATTACKS DONAHEY

Republican Chairman's Statement Alleges Incompetency.

Columbus, Oct. 9.—Clarence J. Neal, Republican state chairman, issued a statement alleging incompetency on the part of Governor Donahey and asserting that the "people of the state are paying the price in millions of dollars unnecessarily and unwisely spent, and in gross mismanagement. They are confronted with the choice of stopping this regime of incompetency by relegating Mr. Donahey to private life, or of giving free rein for another period of wasteful spending and maladministration." Attributing to Governor Donahey a statement that "there will not be enough money in the state treasury to run the state more than a month," Chairman Neal asserted, that by the governor's own words, he "will have the state on the verge of bankruptcy if he is continued in office."

Really Fine Tribute

to Love and Memory

In a speech delivered in the house of representatives, dealing with forest devastation in America, Martin L. Davey, representative from Ohio, cited a beautiful tribute to a tree. Mr. Davey said that on the occasion of his addressing the Rotary club of Elyria, Ohio, the president of the club introduced him with this story:

"I have the most valuable tree in the world out at my house. Some fifteen years ago I had a little boy who was then three years old. In the early fall he would go out to gather up the buckeyes.

"The little fellow would gather the buckeyes, sometimes by pocketfuls and sometimes by basketfuls, and would bring them in and play with them. One day he took sick. The next day he was better, so he went out as usual and brought in just one large, fine buckeye and played with it. The next day he died."

After a little pause he continued: "I took that large, fine buckeye and carried it with me all the long winter. I took it out every little while and looked at it and was reminded of him. And then, when the springtime came, I went out and planted it down under his sand pile. Later the sand was taken away, and the buckeye sprouted and came up, a healthy little plant. Then I built a fence around it to protect it, and I called the boys of the neighborhood together and told them the story. I asked them to help me protect this tree. I told them they might break anything else I had---the windows in my house, my automobile or anything else---but please don't break this tree. They have respected that request and the tree stands there today fifteen years old, a healthy young specimen, the most wonderful tree in the world to me."

There is in this living tree not alone a monument to a little boy who died, but also a monument to a father's love. —From American Forests and Forest Life.

Adds Much to the Joy of Living--Little to the Cost

America is fast becoming a nation of better homes. Everywhere there is a growing realization that good Furniture has much to do with happiness and contentment within the home. Furniture, therefore, is now generally recognized as one of the soundest, possible investments—an investment that will pay you richly in "dividends" of comfort, pride and satisfaction. And when you divide the original cost of good Furniture by the many years it will serve you satisfactorily and well, the cost per year is trivial, indeed. Let us show you the many new arrivals, the exceptional values, now featuring our splendid stock of worthwhile Furniture.

Fur Raisers Fear Eagles

The bald eagle of Alaska has a price of $1 on his head, but now fur farmers are confronted with a new menace, a Seward (Alaska) dispatch to the New York World states. Golden eagles have made their appearance along the coast. The bounty act passed by the last territorial assembly only specified bald eagles, so no bounty can be collected for the golden variety.

A golden eagle with a wing spread of seven feet was killed recently by George C. Cotter. An eagle with so much aerial power could easily carry off a full-grown blue fox.

The eagles are now actively engaged in chasing rabbits. Should the bunnies become scarce the blue fox puppies would be the next prey of the eagles, declare fox farmers.

Ten-Mile Skyrocket

An American scientist, Dr. Robert H. Goddard, who four years ago announced his scheme to fire a rocket to the moon, 239,000 miles away, will make a preliminary test this summer with a rocket that may ascend ten miles.

"The contrivance will be about five feet high and six inches in diameter," said Doctor Goddard. "It will be loaded with a series of explosive charges which will be ignited at predetermined intervals in the flight of the projectile, each giving a powerful 'kick' to accelerate the rushing motion through the air."

"On the success of the experimental projectile may depend my effort to reach the moon."

His Destination

Constable Sam T. Slaekputter, the faithful guardian of the peace and dignity of Petunia, heard a rattle and crash while strolling in the cool of the evening. Looking up he beheld a motor car, of the kind oft called a Michigan cornpopper, go ramming through the fence surrounding the lot of Professor Pussley, break down a lilac bush, leap part way up onto the porch of the residence, tear one corner off the veranda, and roll over on its back.

"Here!" yelled the officer, rushing to the wreck. "Where do you think you're going?"

Sick Poultry Can Be Cured Any Season of the Year.

Circleville, O., R. F. D. 6, September 29, 1924.

Mrs. Edward H. Wardell, winner of Grand Sweep Stakes for best dozen eggs in show in Ohio State university, held February, 1924, says:

Mr. F. L. Fickard, Dear Sir:— I am only too glad to recommend Fickard's Roup and Cholera Drops to any one interested in poultry, as the best preventative for contagious diseases I know of, on the market today. About three years ago cholera broke out in my flock of young chickens, which were then about six weeks old, and weighing about 1½ pounds. There were 175 birds in this flock. As soon as I discovered they were sick I began treating them according to instructions of a specialist. I only lost eleven out of 175, and checked the disease in about three days. At that time Fickard's Roup and Cholera Drops was recommended to me as a wonderful medicine to be used as a preventive of contagious diseases. At that time I began using the Drops and have not had an epidemic since, altho I lose one or two now and then from common causes such as apoplexy, egg-bound, etc. I begin giving it to the chicks when they are quite young and from that time on they are never without it. At the present time I am shipping two cases of eggs a week and have been for the last six months, from my flock of 180 hens and I attribute this high egg production to the healthy condition of my flock. I always grade and candle my eggs and I have attained such a degree of perfection that I have less than three per cent of my eggs that do not run over the specified weight of 24 ounces to the dozen.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Edward H. Wardell.
Fickard's Roup and Cholera Drops is an all seasons remedy for sick poultry. Sold at 50c a bottle by Druggists and General Stores.

SOLE OWNER

H. B. Colwell Bought Interest of Partner in Clothing Store.

H. B. Colwell, of the firm of Colwell & Katz, has bought out the interest of his partner, Leo Katz, and is now the sole owner of the clothing store on the corner of Main and Court streets.

Sixteen years ago Messrs. Colwell and Katz, opened a clothing store in the room just east of the Evans & Krimmel drug store and by their courteous manner and by their methods of fair dealing soon built up a splendid trade. The business grew and a few years ago they leased the corner room and took out partitions and fitted up the commodious room the store now occupies. Many changes were made in the building, windows, etc., and the room supplied with modern fixtures, so that now Circleville boasts of as fine a clothing store as can be found in much larger cities.

The success of the firm is due almost solely to the industry, affability and integrity of Mr. Colwell, who had complete control and management. Mr. Katz, well knowing the character of his partner, trusted him implicitly and very rarely even visited the store. The growth of the business and the many friends made by Mr. Colwell is sufficient proof that the confidence of Mr. Katz was not misplaced.

The many friends of Mr. Colwell are greatly pleased that his efforts have been so successful and congratulate him in his new capacity as sole owner of such a splendid up-to-date business. The achievements of Mr. Colwell are but another proof that courtesy and fair dealing are sure to win. The designation by which the business is known, "The Store That Treats You Right," has been religiously adhered to and this has been a potent factor in the growth and prosperity of this venture.

Mr. Colwell's host of friends are congratulating him and are predicting for him still greater successes.

Detroit, Oct. 9.—When word was received here that the Prince of Wales would visit the city Oct. 14, the city officials immediately started drawing up a list of illustrious citizens to extend greetings to Wales. Former Ambassador Warren was to head the procession. But a telegram was received from Captain Lascelles, private secretary to the prince, which read: "The prince is visiting Detroit quite privately Oct. 14, as the guest of Mr. Henry Ford, who has kindly consented to arrange the program for the day."

Clash at Bargain Sale.

Baltimore, Oct. 9.—Several women were injured and police reserves were called to quell a small riot when women shoppers fought to get into a 5 and 10-cent store here. The store had advertised a bargain sale. One woman was pushed through a plate-glass window and taken to the hospital. Half a dozen others were cut and bruised.

U. S. GAME LAWS ARE EXPLAINED

Uncle Sam Compiles Bulletin of State Regulations.

Washington, D. C.—With the opening of the hunting season hunters in all parts of the United States are kept to obtain copies of the government bulletin epitomizing the game laws for 1924-25. Officials say that this document bids fair to have the largest circulation of any single government publication. They also say that it contains as much information as could be crowded into its 38 pages, for it includes a summary of the United States laws and regulations, the statutes of all the individual states and the laws of Canada, Newfoundland and Mexico.

No hunter should be without a copy according to George A. Lawyer, chief United States game warden, because it will not only contribute toward the hunter's own protection but will assist materially in the enforcement of the game laws, a thing in which every true sportsman is interested. Widespread knowledge of the law is held to be worth far more than a multitude of game wardens.

It is estimated that there are about 6,000,000 nimrods in this country. Last year approximately 4,500,000 state licenses to hunt were issued and in addition there are said to be at least a third that number of hunters who are not required to take out licenses because they confine their hunting to their own lands.

No Federal License Required.

No federal license is required at present, but if a bill now pending in the lower house of congress is passed as officials predict, all hunters of migratory birds will have to obtain permits from the government, for which they will be taxed the sum of $1. The funds created by this fee will be devoted, one-half to the administration and enforcement of the federal game statutes and one-half to the purchase and development of water and marsh areas as feeding grounds for migratory fowl.

The lawful killing of migratory birds began August 16, when the season opened for black-bellied and golden plover and yellow legs in the state bordering on the Atlantic and lying north of Chesapeake bay, and for red birds or rice birds in the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. No federal season lasts more than three and a half months and all open seasons for migratory birds close on or before January 31.

One of the most important provisions of the federal law is that which prohibits hunting between sunset and half an hour before sunrise. Hunting from an airplane, from a power or sail boat or from anything towed by a power or sail boat is forbidden, and no gun that is larger than No. 10 gauge may be used.

No state law can conflict or interfere with the federal statute governing the hunting of migratory birds. The sale of game is prohibited, everywhere by both federal and state laws. The government has 70 big and big game reservations on which there is no hunting, with certain minor and unimportant exceptions, and hunting in the national parks is absolutely forbidden.

What Hunters Must Know.

The essential information which a hunter must have includes the dates when seasons open and their length, the hours during which birds may be killed, the bag limits and the means by which game may be taken.

Of the utmost interest to outdoor enthusiasts and others who for years have urged the enactment of appropriate legislation to check the ever-increasing menace to wild life by oil and other forms of pollution which have contaminated our coastal and inland waters, destroyed aquatic life therein, and seriously endangered the public health, is the oil pollution bill which became a law on June 7 last.

This act prohibits any vessel using oil as fuel for the generation of propulsion power or any vessel carrying oil or having oil thereon in excess of that necessary for lubricating purposes from discharging oil, oil sludge or oil refuse into the coastal navigable waters, including all inland navigable waters in which the tide ebbs and flows.

Another new law of interest to hunters, which also became effective June 7, is that which authorizes the acquisition and setting aside as a life refuge of about 300,000 acres of swamp and low lands along the Mississippi river between Rock Island, Ill. and Wabasha, Minn.

Public sentiment with respect to observance of the laws protecting wild fowl has changed appreciably within the last few years, officials say. Hunters have learned that instead of interfering with their inalienable rights these laws are in reality safeguarding the sport in which they are interested, and they now see that they have better hunting than they could possibly have were there no restrictions.

300-Pound Sturgeon

Upper Marlboro, Md.—Edward Owen, Arthur Smith and Thomas Wilson, while hauling seine near Halls bridge on the Patuxent river, caught the largest sturgeon, it is believed, ever seen in these waters. It was 11 feet long and weighed more than 300 pounds.

BOXING BOUTS

Good Card Has Been Provided at the Armory for Thursday Evening.

Kirk Galloway appeared on an Armory card of boxing here once before and he brought so much favorable comment that he has been signed to come again, this time to furnish the main go against Shifty Dandoe, the speedy Portsmouth near champion. Kirk has been going great lately and has developed a punch that is all to the mustard. They are beginning to call him "Young Dempsey." Dandoe has many fine victories to his credit, among them one on Alex Novecky. If you want to see a hair-raising battle, don't miss this.

The semi-final is also a dandy. Rip Valentino of Russell, Ky., meets C. Swartz of Columbus. These boys are a class and a half weight, if any one inquires. Two four round prelims on a par with the main attractions are also carded.

This is a card that deserves fine support, and if it gets the kind it is entitled to it will be a big boost to local athletics. There has been a good advance sale and indications point to a highly successful festive carnival.

Seats are now on sale at the usual places; prices, 50c, 75c and $1.25. Better be on hand when the asbestos goes aloft.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The reception given Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. A. V. Donahey, wife of Governor Donahey, at St. Philip's Parish house was very successful in every respect.

A large number of ladies, representing every district in the county, were present and met the charming first lady of the state and the ladies who accompanied her on her brief informal visit to our city.

Mrs. Donahey's party was met at The Boggs hotel by a committee of Circleville ladies where a six o'clock dinner was served under the personal supervision of Mrs. Boggs.

The dining room had been decorated for the occasion with lovely dahlias and the table was graced with pink and white carnations.

Those present were; Mrs. Donahey, Mrs. Theodore A. Burnett, Mrs. Luella Peabody, Mrs. T. J. Donnelly, Mrs. J. C. Harper and Mrs. Lucile Teichert, of Columbus; Mrs. B. W. Young, Mrs. E. S. Neuding, Mrs. M. H. Lowe, Mrs. H. S. Heffner, Mrs. Joseph G. Wilder, and Miss Emily Yates, representing the local committee.

Following the dinner the visiting ladies were escorted to the parish house where they were met by the local reception committee.

Mrs. B. W. Young, of Pickaway township, chairman of the Ladies' Democratic executive committee, presided. The first number was a beautiful violin solo by Miss Elizabeth Groce and Mr. Harry Yates' pleasing voice was heard in a vocal solo and both responded to a vigorous and enthusiastic encore.

Mrs. Young then presented Mrs. Donahey, who in a brief address expressed her pleasure in being present and her appreciation of the efforts made by the ladies of Pickaway county in her honor. Addresses by Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Peabody, followed. They dwelt upon the importance of woman's work in the political field.

Another violin number by Miss Groce concluded the regular program after which the ladies present availed themselves of the opportunity to meet Mrs. Donahey.

The Parish house was most artistically decorated in the season's flowers. The program and decorations were under the supervision of Mrs. Rolland Heiskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Kerns, of near Amanda, entertained last Sunday to a dinner party. The following guests who enjoyed their hospitality were; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. DeHaven, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. White, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fox and Miss Goda Ellis of Laurelville; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Abbott, of Clearport; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong and son, Loren of Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Strickler of near Amanda.

Religious Educators Meet.

Zanesville, O., Oct. 9.—Chief Justice Marshall of the Ohio supreme court spoke here on the "Majesty of the Law," at the convention of the Ohio Council of Religious Education. Another speaker was Dr. W. C. Pearce of New York, associate general secretary of the World Sunday School association. ## AMUSEMENTS

Tom Meighan's back in a love-crook-melodrama, "The Confidence Man," which had its premiere at the Met yesterday. Its the strongest Meighan has had in many months as well as the most entertaining.

The story, which ran as a serial in Argosy All-Story Weekly, brings the "good luck" star to the screen in the role of a clever confidence man type of crook. He goes to a small town to rope in a miserly old fellow on a fake oil stock deal, gets in right with the people of the village, gets his victim's money and prepares to skip when the "man higher up" arrives from New York.

From this point on the story steps right along. It keeps you guessing what's going to happen next, whether Tom will be exposed or if he'll reform and marry the pretty young girl he has fallen for.

What does he do? That's the question that's being answered at the Met theater. And you're sure in for an hour and a half of peasing entertainment when you take in "The Confidence Man."

Virginia Valli, star of "A Lady of Quality," is leading woman, Cyril Ring and Laurence Wheat are prominent in the supporting cast which is typical of all Meighan productions and includes among others, Charles Dow Clark, Jimmie Lapsley, Dorothy Walters and David Higgins.

Royal Art in Sweden

The royal house of Sweden is winning through its younger members a substantial reputation for distinction in the arts.

Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, in particular, has proved himself a good poet, a clever playwright, an enterprising explorer and a writer of excellent prose. His translation of "Hassan," published in Stockholm, is said to be a fine piece of work, according to London Tit-Bits.

The artistic strain runs strongly in the family. Prince Eugen studied art in Paris, and paints delightfully. His father, King Oscar II, was a poet of merit.

Another of the Bernadotte line, King Oscar's brother, Charles XV, was both poet and painter.

Another Ex-Blacksmith

It had been terrifically hot about the camp, and the battery cook was suddenly struck with a bright idea for the welfare of humanity. He filled a G. I. can with ice water and was dumping in tea leaves when the mess sergeant strolled up.

"Wotcher makin' there?" demanded the latter.

"Iced tea."

"You can't make iced tea that way, insipid. You gotta boil it."

"Boil it?" The cook became scornful. "Boil it? Why, you poor old can, if I boiled it, it would melt the ice."

Reason for Term "Royal."
Naturally there is a good reason for calling golf a royal game, inasmuch as it was the favorite sport of the kings and queens of Scotland and England, as well as the dukes and earls in ancient times. King Charles, King James I, II, VI, Queen Mary of Scots and others were pre-eminent among the lovers of the recreation.

Collection of Gourds
The late Prince Kilianale, who was for many years a delegate to congress from Hawaii, was a systematic collector of the historical relics of the early dynasties of his people and at the time of his death the collection was quite large and complete so that a large part of his house on the Waikiki beach was devoted to housing the collection. There are many warlike implements contrived and used by the early inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands and a great number of the ceremonial calabashes, some dating back many hundreds of years. Some of these growths which have been regarded as sacred were found to contain valuable documents, papers and pictures, the native methods of preserving such articles. There are also many very handsome and rare feather capes, formerly made use of by royalty and upon ceremonial occasions.

Fooing Him
"Tuther morning I woke up from a doze on the porch and seed a lady sorter fooing around out by the ash hopper," related Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Her back was to'a'ds me, and she had bobbed hair and looked pretty blame good to me. So I slipped over and grabbed and kissed her. And, lo, behold you, it was my wife! You could a-slapped me flat with a feather."
"What's the idy of you getting drunk at this time o' day and cutting up such capers as that?" says she.
"It was that there bobbed hair of your'n that fooled me," says I.
"Huh!" says she. "It's been bobbed for mighty nigh a month now, and you never noticed it before. You're drunk."
"And nuth'a would do her but I had to give her a couple of dollars to spend for a new hat or some such foolishness. I must have been drunk."—Kansas City Star.

Frankly Discussing Natural Gas Facts

THE LOGAN COMPANY'S RATE PROPOSAL

48c per 1000 cubic feet for the first 5000 cubic feet each month.
53c per 1000 cubic feet for the next 5000 cubic feet each month.
58c per 1000 cubic feet for the next 5000 cubic feet each month.
63c per 1000 cubic feet for all over 15000 cubic feet each month.
Subject to a discount of 3c per 1000 cubic feet if paid within ten days after the bill for the previous monthly reading period has been issued.
Service Charge—75c net per month.

EXPLANATORY

After a most careful and exhaustive consideration as to what form of rate re-adjustment would be the fairest and most practical a service charge of 75 cents was decided upon, because it would produce enough additional revenue to afford some aid to the company in going forward to a new development, and extension of service, without disturbing the present natural gas conserving schedule, and yet allow for a discontinuance of the minimum rate charge.
Computing the rate per thousand upon a consumption of 10,000 cubic feet per month, the basis upon which the rates for other Ohio communities shown in our Ad. No. 13 were determined, we find that our rate including the service charge of 75 cents would be 55 cents, which is lower than any of the 107 rates enumerated in the list of municipalities referred to. If the service charge were made 50 cents it would be imperative that the schedule of rates for gas be as follows: 55c, 60c, 65c, 70c, an average rate for 10,000 cubic feet of 62½c.

If the service charge were made 60 cents the rates for gas would necessarily have to be 50c, 55c, 60c, 65c, an average rate for 10,000 cubic feet of 58½c.
Raising the schedule for gas would be burdensome to the consumer and it would introduce a great element of uncertainty as to what the company's income would be because of the danger of curtailment of sales beyond a point that would make it possible to go forward with the enormously expensive program of improvement and development contemplated.

THE LEGAL BASIS FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF UTILITY RATES

The Logan Gas Company proposes a Service Charge of 75 cents as a re-adjustment of its present rate schedule to meet a relatively small portion of a vast expenditure necessary to continue its natural gas service and extend service.

But even so modest a request may cause some opposition to be voiced by captious critics who will put forward such topics as "original investment," "capital stock," "stock dividends," etc., as elements in the determination of what a "legal" rate should be.

In order that you may be correctly informed as to what a legal rate should be and the basis of its determination, permit us to advise that during the past year the U. S. Supreme Court in deciding four rate cases of national importance has decreed that present value shall be the basis of rate. We are presenting herewith a summary copy of an appraisal of The Logan Company's property just completed by Ford, Bacon & Davis, perhaps the most eminent and experienced valuation engineers in this country, and compiled in accordance with these recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court and of various public utilities commissions and state supreme courts. This appraisal shows the value of the company's property for rate-making purposes as $41,152,043, and upon a legal basis of 8 percent. return the price for natural gas delivered to the consumer should be a flat rate of 81.62 cents per thousand cubic feet.

We are also showing above an operating estimate for the next two years which merely includes the development and continued operation of our old fields, and which shows that if a legal return is included in the calculation a flat rate of 74.07 cents per thousand to consumers would be justified.

The rate proposed for adoption, i. e., the present rate now in effect and the inclusion of a Service Charge of 75 cents and the discontinuance of the 90 cent Minimum Charge is therefore far short of what would be justified by a "legal" determination based upon valuation by commission or court adjudication. It is, in itself, admittedly insufficient. The reason for the concession on the part of The Logan Company rests in the fact that it is willing to the extent of its own resources to hazard the chance that additional gas will be procured in new fields by production and purchase, permitting increased sales by extension of service and otherwise, and thus make up the deficiency in earning.

The Logan Company has never sought to have a "high" rate established, and is not in this negotiation seeking what it is legally entitled to receive, but is asking for what is absolutely necessary to maintain its present activities and permit the attempted development of new sources of natural gas supply that its service be prolonged and extended as far in the future as possible and practical.

ROCKEFELLER GIFT FOR CONSERVATION

France Will Use Money to Protect Monuments.

Paris.—Extensive conservation and some important restoration of Reims cathedral, Versailles and Fontainebleau will be undertaken soon with funds provided for this purpose by the $1,000,000 Rockefeller gift to France.

M. Rene Gaudane, a director of the Beaux-Arts, has announced the plans drawn up by the special committee composed of Ambassador Jusserand, M. Hanotaux, Herman J. Harjes and Wells Bosworth, Rockefeller's architect.

The committee will respect the wishes of Mr. Rockefeller to devote the funds of conservation rather than restoration in the hope that restoration may be possible later, but in many cases the extensive repairs planned will be in the nature of restoration. Under the program a great and timely work will be done to perpetuate the glories of these places.

The roof of the Reims cathedral will be replaced exactly as it was before the war, a work that cannot fail to excite universal approval. The roof will cost approximately 5,000,000 francs and completion will require about five years. The Beaux-Arts administration is particularly pleased at this prospect, because, until Mr. Rockefeller made his gift, the plans were for a temporary flat roof.

The maintenance of the chateau at Versailles is now assured, and work on its conservation will be started immediately. The Louis XIII wing will be restored, the marble court repaved, the facades on the park side restored and also the rooms on the ground floor. This work will cost 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 francs and a yearly sum of 1,500,000 francs will be devoted to maintenance.

The gardens of Versailles and the Trianon will be extensively improved, trees will be carefully pruned and trellises rebuilt.

Germany's Angora Envoy Has House Sent to Him

Berlin.—Angora may be turned into a modern bungalow colony if other governments follow the example of Germany.

A portable bungalow of 12 rooms is at present under construction in Germany and will be shipped to Turkey and erected at the new nationalist capital for the use of the German embassy, which is today temporarily housed in the German embassy building at Constantinople.

Many delegations which visit Angora live temporarily in cars. The hotel accommodations are so limited and primitive that tourists find it almost impossible to remain any length of time in the Turkish capital.

Angora is 200 miles from Constantinople, and the railroad service is slow and unsatisfactory. To have a representative on the spot will be of advantage to Germany, it is argued, and other countries may be compelled to do as Berlin has done.

Alaska to Ship Frozen Reindeer Meat to Seattle

Seward, Alaska.—The reindeer industry in Alaska has been commercially organized, the Interior department announces.

Arrangements have been made to ship reindeer carcasses to Seattle in large numbers. The animals are to be slaughtered at Kokrine, on the Yukon river, and dressed and frozen. The product is to move on barges to Nenana on the Alaska railroad, and go in refrigerator cars to steamships at Seward. The department said this would be the first attempt to place reindeer on the market in large quantities.

Another Prehistoric Skeleton Found in Utah

Salt Lake City, Utah.—The remains of another dinosaur, pronounced the second largest yet found, have been unearthed in the Jensen (Utah) fossil field by Prof. Earl Douglas of the Carnegie Institute. The skeleton is estimated to weigh between five and six tons and the leg bones of the prehistoric animal are twelve to thirteen feet in length.

New "Science" Says Teeth Show Character.

Berlin.—A new "science" is developing in Europe whose devotees claim they are able to tell a person's character from the teeth—their number, size, position, form, condition and peculiarities.

The principal rules for such a character analysis are:

The man who opens his lips slightly when he smiles so his upper teeth are visible is an open, agreeable person. The man, however, who draws his lips tightly together and seemingly seeks to hide his teeth is untrustworthy.

Whoever shows his teeth constantly and without cause is stupid.

Whoever has too many teeth is weak of will and easily led. A woman with too many teeth is talkative and a bore.

People with a fourth big molar are dangerous or criminal.

FOOTBALL

Circleville Plays Chillicothe Friday—
First Game at Home.

Chillicothe high meets our football eleven Friday afternoon. This will be Circleville's first game at home, and with the hard practice the squad is receiving it should offer Chillicothe a real game. Altho Circleville lost her opening game to Greenfield, last Friday, while Chillicothe downed Frankfort, the old rivalry between the two teams is bound to make it a close and hard fought game. However, the support of everyone is needed to cheer the team on, and to give it fight and pep.

This game will be the first one to be played inside the new fence. The wiring for the fence came this week and it is expected to be entirely finished for Friday's game. As a large crowd is expected a good sum will be taken in, which will help to pay for the fence. The different classes in the high school are competing with each other by bake sales and by other means to see which can raise the greatest amount, as it has been whispered about that a surprise is in store for the class which donates the most money to the fence fund.

In Memoriam

Editor Union-Herald:—David Reed Porter, son of Noble and Elizabeth Hall Porter was born in Perry township, Pickaway county, Ohio, May 15, 1843, and passed from this life into that longer and fuller life beyond Saturday afternoon, September 20, 1924, aged 81 years, four months and five days. He was one of a family of eleven children and the last to answer the summons of death. His whole life, except the time given to the service of his country in the Civil war was spent in this immediate community.

He has been identified with the interests of this neighborhood, its civic educational and religious life, being a liberal supporter to each.

He was married December 26, 1867, to Miss Sarah A. Mallow, who preceded her husband to the future life over nine years ago. Four children, one son and three daughters were given to them. The son, William C. Porter, departed this life three years ago. In the dark days of the Civil war, when his country needed his services, he volunteered, becoming a member of Company F 90th O. V. I., and serving until his company was mustered out June 13, 1865. He was in several important engagements. His death occurred on the anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga in which he was engaged.

He became a Christian and united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Locust Grove on January 14, 1870. During the 54 years of his Christian life he served the church in various official capacities as steward, trustee, etc. He was greatly interested in the reunion of the old Locust Grove and Hay Run churches to form the present Atlanta church.

When he came down to the evening time he never lost his interest in life, and in the church and the work of Christ's kingdom. He frequently said in his latter days he wanted to live as long as he could, but he was ready to go when his time came.

His last years were made peaceful and quiet by the devoted attention of his daughters. In his last sickness these faithful daughters did all that loving hands and tender interest could do to minister to his comfort.

He also leaves one grandson, Harold R. Porter, son of the late William C. Porter.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday where a vast concourse paid their last respects. The Rev. Mr. Borror, of Columbus, having charge of the services, being ably assisted by the Rev. Dr. Cherrington, district superintendent of Chillicothe and Rev. Elsea, of New Holland. The Hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "In the Sweet-Bye and Bye" were sung by a mixed quartet and at the conclusion of the services a poem, "The Vacant Chair" was read. Burial was made in the family lot in the New Holland cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We offer the deepest gratitude of our hearts to each and every one who remembered us in any way in the sickness and death of our beloved father, Mr. Kirkpatrick for his efficient service, Rev. Borror, Rev. Cherrington and Rev. Elsea for their kind and comforting words; also the quartet for their part in the services.
